THANKSGIVING
IN GRATITUDE FOR BOUNTIFUL CROPS AFTER THEIR FIRST WINTER OF FAMINE, THE PILGRIMS HELD A FEAST OF THANKSGIVING IN NOVEMBER OF 1621
IT IS IN THAT SPIRIT OF GRATITUDE THAT WE SHOULD CELEBRATE THANKSGIVING TODAY — GRATITUDE FOR OUR MATERIAL WELL-BEING, BUT DEEPER GRATITUDE THAT THE RELIGIOUS SPIRIT AND SENSE OF PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY THE PILGRIMS ESTABLISHED IN AMERICA ARE STILL OURS TO ENJOY.
HUBERT MATHEW
THEY ARE ALSO OURS TO MAINTAIN — SO THAT OUR CHILDREN, AND OUR CHILDREN'S CHILDREN, WILL ENJOY THOSE BLESSINGS — AND BE THANKFUL.

Christmas Tree Harvest Shows Sharp Drop Here

County Gets Share of Fees From Tree Sales In U.S. Forests

With the annual Christmas tree harvest from the Tahoe National Forest in the process of being completed, according to Supervisor Guerdon Ellis, the Truckee district lost very few trees this year.

Truckee Ranger E. E. Boehm said the sale of trees from the Truckee district this year was virtually nil, although a few private areas were cut over under the supervision of the forest service. This year, he said, marked a new low in the number of trees sold and cut locally.

Throughout the Tahoe forest, a total of 32,000 trees, averaging five feet in height, have been sold from public land and the revenue from these sales has amounted to $42,000. The forest service advertised white fir trees at 12 cents per foot on the stump and the famous Tahoe silver tips, or red fir, at 17 cents. Bidding actually brought as much as 26 cents per foot for white fir and 39 cents per foot for red fir.

¼ Back to Counties

The supervisor pointed out that 25 per cent of these receipts will be returned to the counties in lieu of taxes. In addition, the harvesting of these trees, as well as those cut from private land, results in the paying out of many thousands of dollars in wages and the purchase of supplies within the area encompassed by the Tahoe National Forest.

Private Land Sales

Ellis further stated that the Tahoe Forest has handled the sale of 16,000 Christmas trees from private land. This is done by means of cooperative agreements with private landowners and the forest service collects 15 cents per tree for supervising the cutting. Many private landowners are availing themselves of this service in order to prevent the wholesale stealing of their trees by irresponsible operators.

Supervisor Ellis has instructed all of his rangers to watch closely for people who cut trees from either public or private lands without proper authority.

Slain Gangster Linked In Deal With Biltmore

The name of Charles Binaggio, slain Kansas City, Mo., racketeer and powerful political figure, was linked with the bankrupt Tahoe Biltmore in press dispatches from Washington, D. C., last week.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation is attempting to recover $265,000 of government money invested in the boarded up luxury hotel, bar and gambling casino at Crystal Bay, Nevada.

The RFC foreclosed on the property in 1949 after the management defaulted in payment of a $350,000 loan jointly made by the RFC and the old Capital National Bank of Sacramento. Fixtures and furnishings have been sold but the bank and its successor, the Anglo-California National Bank, have been unsuccessful in the attempt to sell the property. The RFC is advertising for bids in what is described as a last resort.

Leased by Termini

When the place was closed, the casino was under lease to Sam Termini, California gambling figure and godson of the slain Binaggio. The California Crime Commission reported that Binaggio was preparing to finance Termini in what was to be "the biggest gambling joint west o the Rockies" when he was shot down in a Kansas City Democratic ward club.

Reputable Backers

The chief stockholders in the hotel corporation was a reputable California family and the bank did not investigate other stock holders.

The project operated at a loss for two seasons. The RFC had to pay out its $265,000 guarantee and together with the bank foreclosed on the loan in 1950, taking over the property at public auction for $250,000.

Now the RFC has authorized its San Francisco office to advertise the hotel for sale, to salvage what it can or possibly even to wind up with a profit.

Extension of the Truckee Fire District to include businesses and homes in the areas west of Truckee, as proposed last week by the Truckee Volunteer Fire Department, should meet with the unanimous approval of everyone concerned. Development of the department is now more or less hampered by the limited district and at the same time the area outside the district should have the protection of the department. The cost of increasing the present capacity of the department would, we believe, be more than offset by the additional taxes which would be paid by the outlying areas and insurance rates in the present outside communities would be adjusted to virtually offset the additional fire district tax. A petition asking for annexation to the district was circulated a few years ago and was signed by everyone contacted, indicating the desire to come under the jurisdiction of the department. A technicality invalidated the petition at the time but we feel sure a second attempt would result in mutual benefits.

Operating a vehicle in snow is not one of the most pleasant experiences of motoring but some of the discourtesies practiced by a few drivers some times makes the situation almost impossible. We noticed a number of selfish, stupid acts during the storm this week. A huge oil truck and trailer stopped in the center of the main street and spent an hour or more installing chains while a narrow one-way passage was barely kept open for other vehicles. A few feet away, a car and trailer stopped, blocking at least four cars from moving out of parking spaces, while the occupants spent more than an hour "seeing the town." Numerous times heavy trucks parked on the pavement, leaving only a one-way passage, while drivers coffeed up, unmindful of the inconvenience they were causing both to other drivers and snow removal equipment. Similar discourtesies are frequent during storms as a few apparently assume the idea the highway was made expressly for their individual convenience and use.

Youths Are Held Here For Attack On Hitchhiker

Four Hayward youths apprehended here last week by Deputy Sheriff Wesley Fair, waived extradition and have been returned to Reno where they face charges of robbing a hitchhiking soldier of $3.

The soldier, Jarvie Thompson told Fair that the four picked him up on the outskirts of Reno and offered him a ride west. Near the Fleisch power house, they turned off Highway 40 and threatened him, he said, with a knife which one of the four held at his neck. After relieving him of his small amount of cash, they had trouble starting their car.

Thompson made his way to the highway and was given a lift by another westbound motorist.

Near the quarantine station, Thompson recognized the four alleged assailants as he passed them. Upon reaching Truckee, Thompson notified Fair and the latter stopped the car as it drove down the main street.

He marched the four, Robert Lienau, 20, Leo Herger, 19, Ernest B. McDonald, 19, and Clifford Deavoin, 19, to the local jail with the assistance of Reg Smart. Later Thompson was treated by Dr. L. D. Nelson for knife wounds on his neck.

Fair said three of the youths admitted the attack but that the fourth, the one identified by Thompson as the one who threatened him with the knife, denied participation.

39 Inches Snow Left Here After Storm Hits Area

Utility Crews Kept Busy As Wind, Falling Trees Damage Lines

A mid-winter type snow storm blanketed the Sierra from Baxter to Reno Monday and Tuesday, giving promise of ample snow for winter sports and early assurance of plenty of winter to follow.

A total of 39 inches of snow was recorded by the U. S. Forest Service here for the two days and 31 inches were reported on the ground Wednesday evening.

The precipitation for the two-day storm was 3.99 inches at the Truckee station, 1.85 falling on Monday and 2.14 inches Tuesday.

At Donner Summit a 60-inch snowfall was reported for the two days and at Tahoe City the fall was around 40 inches.

Trees Topple

The storm caused scores of trees to fall and several fell across power and telephone lines, although service was maintained throughout the area consistently. A 16 minute interruption of power service Wednesday morning was caused by a failure on the Pacific Gas and Electric Company's line between Drum and the Summit.

The highway was kept open but chains were required to cross Donner Pass. The highway patrol reported no serious mishaps. The Southern Pacific schedule was maintained but snow removal equipment was kept busy.

Storm Damage

F. W. Gaiennie, Sierra Pacific Power Company district manager, said yesterday that the storms this season have kept his crews on the jump. There has not been one mechanical failure, he said, but storms have continued to damage lines throughout the Summit and Tahoe areas, with falling trees contributing principally to the trouble.

A thirty minute interruption in local service last Saturday night was due to a mechanical disturbance on the Truckee Public Utility system.

The storm here followed several days of cold weather which saw temperatures drop to only a few points above zero some mornings. Bright, sunny days with warm afternoons had prevailed, however, until Monday. The storm was general over the west, extending as far as the Rocky Mountains and into southern California.

Flood Anniversary

It was a year ago this week that five days of torrential rains sent the Truckee River and tributary streams on a rampage, causing millions of dollars damage at Reno and surrounding areas.

Bridges were washed out and many buildings from Tahoe to Reno were damaged.

Big Damage Suit Over Local Crash Is Nearing Jury

Capital Woman Seeking Over Half Million In Placer Court

A jury selected last week is continuing to hear evidence in the $552,487.34 damage action by Mrs. Kate Jacobs of Sacramento against Melvin Thorton, Thornton's Garage and Charles Olano a garage employee.

The trial being conducted in the Placer County superior court at Auburn is the outcome of a car-tow truck collision at 3:30 p.m. January 10 at Big Bend, two miles east of Cisco, in which Herman Conrad Jacobs, part owner of the Pureta Sausage Company of Sacramento, was killed.

The suit was filed by Jacobs' wife, who asks $450,000 for herself, $100,000 for her son, Hermie, and $2,487.34 special damages in cause of the death of her husband.

State Patrolman Roy Stallard who investigated the crash and who reported at the time that the Jacobs' car apparently skidded into the tow truck driven by Olano on a slippery section of highway during a snow storm was one of the principal witnesses at the trial, as was Patrolman T F. Sheehan, who also investigated

Robinson and Robinson of Auburn are representing the defendants in the case which is being heard before Superior Judge Lowell Sparks. The trial is expected to be completed this week or early next.

Basketball Will Occupy Sports Menu Locally

Practice for a 28-game home court schedule by the American Legion's basketball team got under way this week and will continue each Wednesday evening and Sunday afternoon, John Rau and Al Wakefield, managers, announced.

The first game will be played here on December 5 and a game is scheduled each Wednesday and Sunday thereafter.

An invitation is being extended to all potential players to turn out for the practice sessions and both Rau and Wakefield declared there are probably many good players locally who have hesitated about joining the team.

Season tickets for the games will be on sale in the near future.

HOSPITAL BOARD SEEKS TO SPREAD BUSINESS AROUND

In their effort to be impartial, directors of the Tahoe Forest Hospital District last Friday agreed to purchase fuel oil for the new hospital from all seven local dealers, each supplying the institution annually on an alternating basis.

The company making the deliveries during the year will be responsible for servicing the equipment and keeping the tanks filled.

R. N. Little was named by the board to make an equitable distribution of the insurance policies on the hospital and furnishings, with the local agents each receiving their shares.

EDMUNDS ATTENDS UTILITIES SESSIONS AT BAY LAST WEEK

C. Edmunds, manager of the Truckee Public Utility District, last week attended the 1951 annual conference of California Municipal Utilities Association at Oakland. The Truckee Public Utility District is a member of the association, Edmunds is a member of the board of directors and is chairman of the fish and game committee.

This was the 19th annual conference of the CUMA, which is an organization composed of the various publicly owned utilities, both power and water, in the state of California.

Among the subjects discussed, said Edmunds, were accounting, sales, advertising, civil defense, conservation and procurement of materials.

The officers of the CMUA are J. H. McCambridge, general manager Burbank public service department, president; C. E. Plummer, chief engineer Modesto Irrigation Di-strict, vice president; F. V. Frey, supervisor of the light and power department of Pasadena, secretary.

U. S. Sen. William Knowland addressed the conference and had as his subject, "The International Situation."

JEWELER OPENS NEW SHOP AT GATEWAY PARK

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Lauritson of Los Angeles have arrived here to make their home and the former has established a watch repair and jewelry store in one side of the Faulkner and Antonson building at the Gateway Park Shopping Center.

Lauritson, who has engaged in the watch making and jewelry business for the past 28 years, has recently operated shops in the Los Angeles and Long Beach areas. He will stock a complete line of all types of jewelry and offers a guarantee on all his repair work.

The newcomers are currently residing in the DeMai apartment near their store and seem well pleased with the prospects despite the heavy storm which greeted them upon their arrival.

The Johnston Jewelry store on the main street here has been closed for several months although some stock remains.

Truckee People Attend GOP Meet in San Diego

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Barrett and William Porter of Truckee attended the sessions of the Republican State Central Committee in San Diego over the weekend. Barrett is chairman of the Nevada County central committee and Porter is his alternate on the state group.

Highlights of the affair were the appearance of U. S. Senators Knowland and Nixon on the same program, talks by Governor Warren, Lieut. Gov. Knight and other state officers. The meeting was concerned with organization and fiscal matters and avoided matters of policy and candidates.

ATTORNEYS QUIT YOUNG SLAYERS E'ER NEW TRIAL

Attorneys for Robert Sturm and James McKay, convicted of slaying two Shasta County sheriff's deputies, have asked to be relieved of handling the new trial ordered for the pair.

Sturm and McKay were apprehended here by State Patrolman William Gautsche and the late Patrolman George Schrom following receipt of a teletype announcing the escape.

W. H. Lally of Sacramento, representing Sturm, and Rupert S. Crittenden and Kennedy Jackson of Oakland, representing McKay, have filed notice with County Clerk Ruth Presleigh they will not be available for the trial.

District Attorney Laurence J. Kennedy Jr. of Shasta County said new counsel for McKay and Sturm probably will be appointed by the court in which the new trial is to be held.

A remittiur from the state supreme court setting the date for a hearing to determine the time and place for the new trial is expected soon.

In ordering the new trial last month the high court called for a change of venue in view of public indignation in Shasta County.

The youths are accused of killing Deputies Sheriff Dan Heryford and Earl Sholes in May, 1950, while being returned from Seattle to Camp Whitmore. They were convicted and sentenced to death last December.

Girl Scouts, Brownies Seek Old Toys, Reading Matter

Mrs. Gladys Pedley announced that the Brownies and Girl Scouts were starting a drive to collect reading material for the Veterans Hospital at Reno. They are also collecting discarded and damaged toys which they plan to repair and paint to be presented to the children's ward at the Washoe Medical Center in Reno at Christmas time. They ask everyone's cooperation in these two projects.

Waters Hunt—

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Waters went to Gridley for hunting during the weekend.

YOUTH RECREATION PROGRAM SCHEDULE EXPANDED, SHIFTED

The children's recreation programs, jointly sponsored by the American Legion and the PTA here, have been shifted from Thursday to Friday nights, effective last week.

Initial response was so great that the program has been divided into two sections. Children of the 4th, 5th and 6th grades met last Friday. Children of the 1st, 2nd and 3rd grades will meet this Friday night and henceforth they will meet on alternate Friday nights.

The sessions are held in the Veterans Memorial Building and start at 7 p.m. Each activity will be properly supervised by adult chaperones.

Reed Ferguson Injured In Long Fall at Plant

Reed Ferguson, 42, one of the owners and operators of Ferguson Brothers plant just west of Truckee, is recovering from serious injuries received when he fell 30 feet to the ground at the mixing plant last Thursday.

Ferguson's left arm was broken in two places and he suffered severe bruises and possible internal injuries. He was taken to a Reno hospital by the Truckee ambulance.

IDAHO APPLE TRUCK RUNS AMOK, THREE ARE HURT

A truck loaded with apples ran wild 4½ miles down Highway 40 east of Baxter's Sunday night, hit a loaded bus, another truck and a passenger car before overturning. Only two persons were seriously injured and another suffered slight hurts.

As the highway patrol pieced together the story, here's what happened:

James Cogel of Boise, Idaho, driver of the truck, had just started down the grade four miles east of Baxter when he lost control of his vehicle. At a speed estimated by witnesses at 85 miles per hour, the truck hurtled down the highway. It hit a military bus loaded with soldiers from Travis Air Force Base but merely sheered off the bus clearance lights.

A little farther along it collided headon with a car driven by L. E. Mylar of Laton. The car was knocked off the road.

Still farther west it knocked off the rear view mirror of a tanker truck.

Half a mile west of Baxter, the driver attempted to stop the truck by turning into an embankment. The truck climbed 20 feet up the embankment, toppled back and overturned, pinning Cogel in the wreckage and scattering apples over the highway. A second bus, attempting to avoid the wreckage, skidded on the crushed apples but managed to stop three feet short of the smashed truck.

Thanksgiving Proclamation

SACRAMENTO —(C. N. S.)— Governor Earl Warren issued the annual Thanksgiving Day proclamation last week, officially naming November 22 as the date of general observance. His proclamation follows:

"Thanksgiving Day is one of the oldest and most significant of our American traditions. It extends back more than three centuries to the simple ceremony of a small group of Pilgrims, who, having struggled successfully through their first year in the new world, paused to give thanks to Almighty God for the bounty of their first harvest.

"Like the Pilgrims, we have reason individually and nationally to express our thankfulness for the blessings we have received from our Heavenly Father. High among these blessings are the unity and understanding which have kept our Nation strong and vigorous, and the vast production of our farms and industrial plants which has made it possible for our Nation to become a major force for the preservation of freedom in the world.

"Thanksgiving Day should be for all of us an occasion for religious consecration and rededication to the ideals and principles which have guided the development of our Nation. In our Thanksgiving observances this year let us pray for an increased willingness among all the nations of the world to work for a lasting peace. And let us pray for an early and successful conclusion to the fighting in Korea — the cause of such great sacrifice by our servicemen on the battlefields and so many heart aches for those of us at home who anxiously await their safe return.

"With these thoughts in mind, I, Earl Warren, Governor of California, do hereby proclaim Thursday, November 22nd, 1951, as THANKSGIVING DAY in California, and I urge all Californians to join in observances in church and home in grateful recognition of the blessings we enjoy as Americans."

Nevada County Aid For Needy Children High

In Nevada County, aid paid to needy children n families averages $108.59 per family for September 1951, 49 per cent higher than the $73.10 national average payment per family for August, California Taxpayers' Association reports.

During September, 150 families, including 326 children, received $16,288 in aid payments in the county. In addition, 13 children in boarding homes and institutions received $661 for the month.

California's average payment per family ($114.30) for September is 56 per cent higher than the national average for August, latest nation-wide data available.

COUNTY IS INVITED TO PUT DISPLAY IN STATE CAPITAL

SACRAMENTO —(C. N. S.)— Officials of Nevada County will receive an invitation to submit plans for a permanent display in the state Capitol annex within a week, Fred Links, deputy director of finance, announced.

Links said one county, San Joaquin, already has submitted its plans and expects to start installation of the exhibit within a short time.

In designing the Capitol annex, the architects provided an exhibit space for each of the 58 counties of the state. The space is 46 inches wide, 23½ inches deep and 5 feet six inches high and is framed in black marble.

Links said all plans for exhibits must be approved by a committee including himself, Justin Childs, building manager, Ned Green, California State Fair manager, Kenneth Frye, also of the state fair and A. C. Morrison, Sacramento County agricultural commissioner.

Perishables will not be permitted in the glass encased exhibit spaces, Links said. He expects most of the exhibits to cosist of maps or drawings, panoramas or other material pertaining to the products of the county.

RURAL TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

Traffic accidents in rural areas of California showed an increase during the first nine months of 1951 when compared with those during the same period of 1950, reports the National Automobile Club. Figures show a increase of 10.8 per cent in reportable accidents, 12.3 per cent in persons injured and 16.1 per cent in persons killed.

How to make good telephone service even better...

You won't miss important calls when you answer promptly. When you have only two cards left to play in an exciting grand slam hand—or in any situation where you'd like to say "Wait a minute!"—it's always a temptation not to answer the telephone immediately. The person calling, though, doesn't know what you're doing, and may hang up, thinking you are not at home. That way, you may miss important calls. So, next time your phone rings, won't you try to answer as quickly as you can?

faster long distance service can be yours if you always give your call to the operator by number ...rather than by name and address. That way, you see, you won't have to wait while she finds out the number from "Information" in the distant town you are calling.

Warren, Taft Vie For GOP Presidential Nod

by HENRY MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO —(C. N. S.)— Now that Governor Earl Warren has formally let the cat out of the bag and declared himself for the presidency, a move which almost everyone around the Capitol has known he was going to make for the past several months, the betting has started as to how far the California chief executive will get.

A "favorite son" candidate for the past two presidential elections the governor indicated by his statement declaring himself a candidate for the office, that this time it's for keeps. And whether the third time's the charm or not is anyone's guess.

As far as California is concerned, there is little to indicate that this state would turn on her "favorite son" and send an uninstructed delegation to the national convention, despite the "uprising" sponsored by former Senator Ed Tickle and State Senator Jack B. Tenney. The recent Los Angeles meeting in which the governor's leadership of the GOP was attacked will, it is predicted, have little bearing on the final outcome of the Republican primary vote.

The Warren declaration brings speculation as to whether Senator Taft will enter the California primary with a slate of delegates. This could occur if the anti-Warren faction can bring enough pressure on the Ohio candidate to permit his name to be entered on the California list.

The conclusions, however, are that Taft will stay out of the California primary, just as Warren probably will stay out of the Ohio primaries. It would serve either candidate to little advantage to challenge the other in his home state. Warren has not, in fact, indicated whether he will seek the nomination in any other state or not, but the guess is that as time goes on, his name will be entered in some of the western states at least, and probably in some key eastern states as a test of strength.

Another question was raised after the Warren declaration, and that is whether or not Governor Dewey of New York, a twice unsuccessful candidate for the presidency, will support Warren, who was Dewey's running mate in 1948. If such support were forthcoming, it would give the California candidate a tremendous advantage at the convention, with the New York and California delegations, the two largest, acting on his behalf. This is another question that only time can answer.

Meanwhile, there was money floating around Sacramento that Warren will not get the Republican nomination. The feeling is that while the governor is a logical candidate and would be a good GOP nominee, probably the only one who could win over the tremendous Democratic advantage, that the eastern politicians will not give up the ship to western influence, that Taft will be nominated with the result a Democratic victory again a year from now.

In any event, no one can challenge the motives of Governor Warren in becoming a candidate. He has announced, he said "in all humility", and his statement with regard to his candidacy was couched in terms of service to the country, rather than in any party or personal interest.

"Whatever I do in relationship to the Presidency," he said, "will be done first in the interests of our country, second in the interests of my party, and lastly, in my own interests."

SKI MEET SUNDAY, SEASON'S FIRST, AT SQUAW VALLEY

The earliest sanctioned ski racing competition of this season is the first annual Turkey Trophy slated for Squaw Valley Sunday November 25.

Several hundred entry applications have been mailed out by the Squaw Valley Ski Club, with more than a dozen racers already indicating they would be on hand Gardner Smith from Modesto expects to get leave from the Army to enter the Class A event.

The Far West Ski Association has granted special authorization to the Squaw Valley race committee to accept applications for FWSA race cards and memberships. Walt Clemmons, FWSA competition chairman, stated cards would be forwarded to racers upon receiving applications from the Squaw Valley club. Skiers will be able to race without cards, provided application has been made through Squaw Valley's committee. Racers listed with the FWSA will be able to obtain their Class A and B cards. All others are automatically placed in Class C.

Chief of course will be Emile Allais, director of Squaw Valley's ski school and 1952 Olympic ski team coach.

Approximately 35 gates will be set on the course, involving a vertical drop of about 750 feet.

Applications will be accepted until two hours prior to starting time. Following the FWSA classes of A, B and C, a guest slalom will be run off.

"What have I got to lose if they break you up?"

Aside from any question of fairness, people wonder how they'll be affected personally if the Antitrust lawyers succeed in cutting big companies into smaller ones. We hear such comments as "What have I got to lose if they break you up?"

The answer depends on who you are. Most people gain in many ways by the fact that there are both large and small companies competing for your patronage, trying to get ahead. Here's what you stand to lose:

New products and improvements in old ones flow steadily from our laboratories—new gasolines and oils, raw materials for new fabrics, "soapless soaps"; many others. You may take such progress for granted. But Standard has put some 40 million dollars into research since 1940. We can't go on this way if they break us up.

Motorists get the finest service at Western gas stations; Standard led the way. Our technical counsel helps many industries cut production costs of goods you buy. We've pioneered in taking needed petroleum products into undeveloped farm and frontier areas. We can't give these services if we're forced to be small.

You are assured of ample supplies of petroleum products at reasonable prices. Standard is constantly seeking out new crude oil reserves in this country and abroad. This sometimes costs millions before the first gallon is found. We can do jobs this big, which benefit you as well as the country, only by being integrated.

America's military strength depends heavily on industry. Our fighting men are backed by the world's greatest production capacity. Should it now be limited by breaking up big companies? We are at work for the U. S. on atomic research, synthetic rubber, aviation gasolines, other jobs. We believe we perform them best by being big.

You have a lot to lose if they break us up. As a big, integrated company, Standard is able to operate more efficiently in serving you and helping to make America strong.

Sierra Valley Fawn Slayer Is Fined $350

SIERRAVILLE— Arthur Weber of Sacramento was fined $350 and his hunting license suspended when he pleaded guilty toto a charge of shooting a fawn deer, ten miles southeast of here during deer season.

Bruce Fitzpatrick, Sacramento, testified he saw Weber shoot the fawn when the animal was standing in a meadow and later took his hunting license away and turned it over to the game warden. The case was heard last week by Judge Alden Johnson.

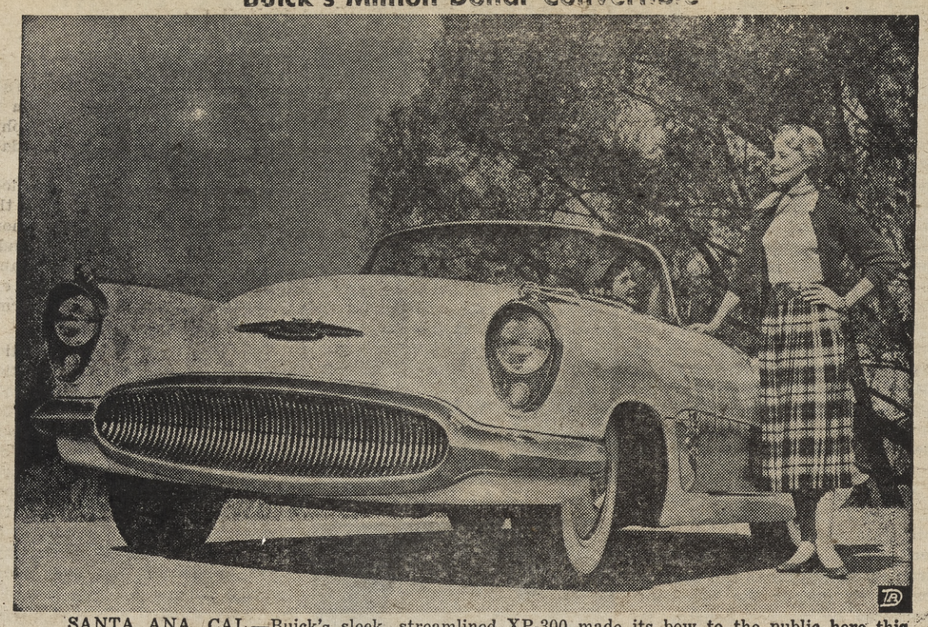
Buick's Million Dollar Convertible



SANTA ANA, CAL.—Buick's sleek, streamlined XP-300 made its bow to the public here this week. Powered by a supercharged V-8 engine and equipped with the dual four-wheel brakes, it is strictly an experimental model and will not be put into production, according to Ivan L. Wiles, Buick's general manager and vice-president of General Motors. It has been insured for a million dollars.

SECTION WORKER TO ROAD PREXY STORY OF NEW S.P.R.R. CHIEF

Retirement of A. T. Mercier as president of Southern Pacific Company, effective December 31, 1951, and election of D. J. Russell, now executive vice president, as his successor has been announced by the railroad's board of directors. Mercier will continue to serve as a director of the company.

War Prexy

Mercier's railroad career stretches over a period of 48 years, all with Southern Pacific. He went to work for the company at Los Angeles January 1, 1904, as a transitman and roadmaster's clerk, following graduation from Tulane University's engineering school. He became president of the railroad December 11, 1941, while the nation was still reeling from the schock of Pearl Harbor. Under his leadership, Southern Pacific successfully carried its gigantic Wor'd War II traffic, while serving more military establishments than any other railroad.

RUSSELL

MERCIER

From his earliest days with Southern Pacific, Mercier was to know the meaing of service on a railroad's battlefront, coping with flood, fire, wind and snow. In 1905-07, having advanced to junior membership in the engineering corps, he participated in the railroad's dramatic struggle to control the Colorado River floods and save the Imperial Valley.

Up Through Ranks

After wide experience in the engineering department, he was promoted in 1917 to assistant superintendent of the railroad's Shasta division. He then served as superintendent of the Portland, Ore., division; president of the San Diego and Arizona Railway, a Southern Pacific affiliate, and vice president and general manager of the Pacific Electric Railway at Los Angeles. Returning to the parent company in 1933 as general manager, he advanced to vice president, president and director.

Today, nearing the retirement age of 70, under company pension rules, Mercier finds his greatest satisfaction in the associations with the people of his railroad. His oft-repeated declaration, "There are no better railroaders anywhere" stands as his firm appraisal of Southern Pacific men and women.

Youngest President

Donald J. Russell, named as Mercier's successor, will rank as the youngest president of Southern Pacific. He is 51.

As in the case of Mercier, and practically all other top officers of Southern Pacific, he has spent all of his working years with the railroad. And also, like the man he is to succeed, he had university training as an engineer. But his first job with the railroad, after completing his education at Stanford University, was as a time-keeper for a work gang on the railroad's Sacramento division in 1920. He advanced quickly to positions of instrumentman and assistant engineer in the egineering force.

Then, because the foudation of a railroad is its roadbed and rails, young Russell sought and obtained appointment as assistant foreman of a section gang, first in Arizona and later as foreman in California. He returned to engineering work in 1922 and in 1927 was promoted to roadmaster on the Portland division. This led to service as trainmaster and as assistant superintendent of the Portland division.

Russell went to San Francisco in 1937 as assistant to the general manager and was made superintendent of the Los Angeles division in 1939. In 1941 he returned to San Francisco as assistant to the president and in the same year was made vice president. He became a director in 1943 and executive vice president in 1951.

SWANEE'S TAHOE LETTER

PHONE TAHOE CITY 39W

Tahoe City, Nov. 18

Dear Tahoeites:

Snow poles are up, diitches have been clear and the radio tonight is predicting a new storm about ready to visit our area. I hear tonight that Squaw Valley is anticipating not less than three feet of fresh snow before the weekend. With their opening scheduled for Wednesday night, this should make their guests happy.

Last Monday's (Nov. 12) terrific storm was accompanied by high winds which blew down a large pine tree across the highway just at the north edge of Tahoe City near the Jacobs' home, which is occupied by Miss Elsie Young of the Tahoe Realty Company. Elsie had been watching the trees bending low all around her house and worried a bit as the earth seemed to give around the foot of a particularly large pine. She gave her friend, Howard Martin, a call and he rushed down to get her car out of danger. This was around 7:30 in the morning. Only a few gusts later the big tree landed with a crash across the main highway obstructing traffic. It also cut off electric power in town for approximately two hours and power and phones were off and on at intervals for the next two days as repair work progressed. Alex Cushing of Squaw Vally loaned one of the resort's big power saws and the tree was cut into sections and removed from the road.

Another big tree went down in the wind storm on Sunnyside Lane, a road leading from Highway 89 toward the lake near Ward Creek Cabins. The George Holts, caretakers at Saroni's estate were without power all day but fortunately no serious damage was done. Incidentally, the Holts are expecting their son, PFC Fred Holt of the Marines, home for a ten-day furlough over the Thanksgiving holiday from Camp Pendleton.

Mrs. Marie Henry of Tahoe City, certified Red Cross instructor, this week announces that if enough people in this area are interested she will conduct an advanced 12 hour American Red Cross first aid class. Those interested should contact her at Tahoe City, telephone 70.

A number of Tahoeites took off for lower climes with the opening of the pheasant season. Among successful hunters were Mr. and Mrs. Imon D. Mtchell who, with their son, Imon Dale, spent the weekend at Sutter at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. M Mitchell. They brought home their limits and reported pheasant plentiful in that area. On Sunday the elder Mitchells hosted an early Thanksgiving dinner for 18 members of the family, all residents of the surrounding area, excepting the Tahoe Mitchells.

Cary Raymond of Lake Forest has been under the weather for the past five days but is on the mend at this writing. She plans to spend the coming holiday in Auburn with her family, weather permitting.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Donaldson and son Rex of Pineland left on Tuesday morning for Los Angeles where they will spend the holidays with Mrs. Donaldson's son and daughter in law, Mr. and Mrs. Richardson Gault. She is especially anxious to see her wee grandson 18 months old Jeffrey. During her absence, her assistant, Mrs. Earline Brumbaugh, will operate the coffee shop in town.

There was no meeting last Friday night of the Lake Tahoe Ski Club due largely to the absence of several members who had gone hunting There will be no meeting Friday night, November 23, but there will be one on November 30 at 8 p.m

Had a letter today from Mrs Ethel Severson of Long Beach mother of Corky Severson, both well known in the Tahoe Park and Sunnyside areas here where they vacation annually. Mrs. Severson enclosed an illustrated page from the Long Beach Press Telegram showing members of the Children's Theatre Group of which she is a member, in costumes for the presentation of Hansel and Gretel which- was shown to the youngsters of that area on October 27, November 3 and 10 at the Ebell Theater. Mrs. Ebell played the role of Hansel and her young son was delighted with the idea of grownups portraying the characters in the favorite child's story. Ethel writes she has had a lot of fun serving with the theater group all summer.

Also had a card from the vacationing Charles Spaldings who wrote from Van Nuys. They were headed for Mexico and she was feeling fine, despite the long ride. But they both say that no matter how much beautiful scenery they view, there's still no place like Tahoe.

Had a card and letter from Mrs. C. W. Vernon, who with the judge is enjoying a leisurely motor tour which will keep them away until around December 1. She wrote from McKinley, a small town just a few miles east of Dallas, Texas, where they were resting at a small hotel. On Monday last they visited old friends Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tyler of San Aneglo, who entertained them royally and took them sight seeing through west Texas. They were en route to Oklahoma and in a few days would be in Mrs. V's old home town of Pineville, Missouri. The weather was warm, too warm for her she said, but the scenery was grand and she was taking pictures all along the way She also enclosed one of her latest poems, written along th eway in Texas, titled "Old Texan"; very fine indeed.

Excepted back tonight from a pheasant hunting trip in Woodland are Mr. and Mrs. William Bechdolt, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Scott and Jay Shontz, Tahoe City; and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Titus of Truckee. The party planned to make their headquarters in Sacramento over the weekend and hunt in private ranches in the Woodland area. We have not heard the measure of their success as yet. Shontz went down to Woodland on Thursday to visit his wife, Beccy, who has been confined to the Woodland Clinic with a baffling illness since November 6. She was undergoing xray treatments and was some better but her physicians urged that she remain under observation for an indefinite time. He weight has gone down to 93 pounds. Her many friends wish her speedy and complete recovery

The Bud Scott family will motor down to Piedmont for the Thanksgiving weekend, where they will be guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Scott. And yours truly will enjoy a week's vacation in Reno with daughter Marie and family over the holiday week, returning to Tahoe on November 28-. During my absence, Mrs. Rie Henry will take over my job as reporter so anyone having news may call Tahoe City 70 during my absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Huech of San Francisco are renting the Brougher house, property of Mrs. Elsie Bechdolt, for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Scott are the new owners of the beautiful old estate of the Spenz-Black family, located just beyond the Caholic chapel, running 150 feet wide between the highway and the lakefront. The majestic old home boasts 12 rooms, with maid's and chauffeur's accommodations, and broad porches run around the house. It has stood unoccupied for some years and even though built around 1906, shortly after Tahoe Tavern, the building generally is in excellent condition. Tahoe Realty handled the sale and the last former owner is reported to have been Norman McKee Lang of Canada, a member of the Spenz-Black family. The Scotts plan complete renovation of the old place and are installing the latest modern conveniences all through. Trees will be removed to let in sunlight and lawns and flower beds will brighten the spacious grounds. The Scotts hope to move into their newly remodeled home some time next summer.

Mrs. Helen Mattheus of Carnelian Bay last Thursday night entertained the Sewing Bee at her home on the lakeshore. Sewing and knitting occupied the evening, with dessert and coffee served before departure. Those enjoying the pleasant evening included Mrs. Patti Scott, Mrs. Jean Henry, Mrs. Mary Anna Connors, Mrs. Violet Pomin and Mrs. Bernie Bechdolt.

About 40 attended the meeting on last Thursday night at Tahoe Lake School auditorium held by the local school board to acquaint local parents with the new report cards which are being issued children of this district from kindergarten through the 6th grade. Mrs. Robert Briggs conducted the meeting and explained the changes which have been made. She emphasized the new card compares the individual child with himself and not others in his class and eliminate A, B, C, etc., markings. Right in the midst of this enlightening meeting the lights went out, so Mrs. Briggs manned the piano and the gathering sang many of the popular old songs until service was restored. The parents present approved the change in report cards and were invited to send in any suggestions they may have. They are also urged to send in a report at the end of the year if they so choose, as the faculty is eager to improve in any way methods of education and will cooperate at all times with the parents. The present cards will be in force for a period of one year. Mrs. Scarborough was hostess at refreshments time.

Last Friday evening members of the Tahoe-Truckee high school chorus were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Briggs of Lake Forest. Ernest Douglas, their instructor, brought along his oboe and a pleasant evening of music and singing was enjoyed. Refreshments were served by the hosts.

Leave you for the week and pray all of our readers have a bounteous and peaceful Thanksgiving. The season's blessings to you all, as ever, Swanee.

The Coleman Station fish hatchery in Shasta County has hatched, reared and released 25,000,000 salmon in one year.

VETS' BOND ISSUE

Sale of $25,000,000 in veterans bonds has been fived for January 9 by State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson. This is the last of a $100,000,000 issued approved for purchase of farms and home- for war veterans. The bonds are self liquidating.

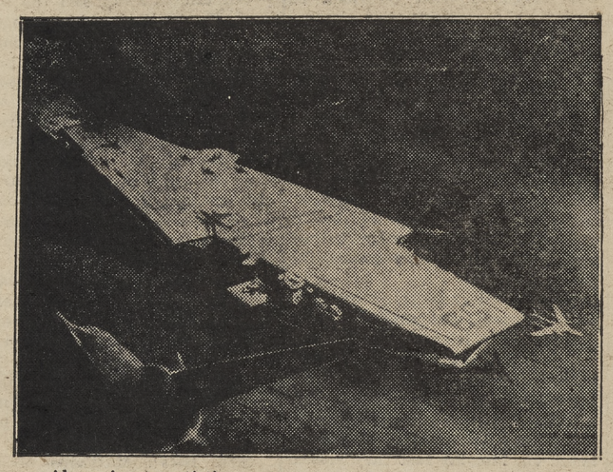
NEW AIRCRAFT CARRIER COULD ACCOMMODATE FOUR FAMOUS SHIPS ON ITS FLIGHT DECK

Plans for USS Forrestal Would Have Space for Frigates Hartford and Constitution and the Ironclads Monitor and Merrimac



Above is an artist's conception of the Navy's newest aircraft carrier USS Forrestal, the 59,900-ton flush deck vessel which will be built at Newport News, Va. The ship will have an over-all length of 1,040 feet, a beam of 128 feet on the waterline and an extreme width of 252 feet at one point on the flight deck. Some idea of the ship's immense size may be gained when it is realized that the old Constitution, 175 feet over-all; the Hartford, 226 feet; the Monitor, 172 feet and the Merrimac, 178 feet, could be placed side by side on its flight deck with room to spare for destroyers and other smaller boats.

The USS Forrestal will be the Navy's first carrier with a retractable bridge. Her four catapults, four elevators and a large flight deck will enable the ship to handle the heaviest carrier aircraft of latest design. Designed to accommodate approximately 3,500 men, including her air group personnel, more comfort and efficiency for her crew will be provided by air conditioned quarters, while escalators will quickly carry pilots to the flight deck from ready rooms below. The Forrestal will cruise at a speed of 30 knots plus and will be capable of remaining at sea for three months without replenishing.

U.-S. FILES LIENS FOR BACK TAXES OF SAHATI FAMILY

RENO— Tax liens totaling $95,128.35 were filed in San Francisco Monday against Edmond (Eddie) Sahati, well known in Nevada gaming circles, and four members of his family.

The move coincided with an announcement by Charles Massarik, deputy internal revenue collector for San Francisco, that supervisors will interview 150 local deputy collectors to determine reasons for failure to collect some $230,000,000.

Sahati and his brother, Nick, operate the Stateline Country Club at Lake Tahoe. The tax liens list the family's address as 988 Market St., San Francisco.

The federal liens against the Sahati family lined up as follows:

Edmond Sahati, 1945-46-47, $28,999.70; Nicholas Sahati, 1946-47 $5,761.92; Mary Renee Sahati, wife of Nicholas, 1946-47, $5,035.03; Nicholas and Mary Renee Sahati, 1945, $7,750.76; Sally Sahati, a sister of Eddie and Nick, 1945--46-47, $23,808.63; Mrs. M. Zafer Sahati, mother of Eddie, Nick and Sally, 1945-46-47, $23,772.

Massarik, in announcing the survey of unpaid taxes, said there is an "unusual amount" of warrants and accounts outstanding but he admitted they did not only represent assessed or delinquent taxes. Some, he said, represent corporate liability which is paid on an installment basis and is not yet due.

FLYING SQUIRRELS RANGE OVER WIDE TERRITORY

Yes, there really are flying squirrels! Most people know little about them, though, because the small, fast-moving animals hide away and sleep in the daytime. It is only at night that they tirelessly explore the trees and ground. They actually fly, too, but not with wings.

To help him glide, the flying squirrel has a thin fold of skin along each side of his body, between his front and hind legs. When he leaps, with legs outspread, the skin stretches and makes the underside of his body broad and flat. Like the wing of an airplane, this surface enables him to sail through the air.

He cannot stay aloft, like a bird, but according to the National Wildlife Federation, he can glide long distances between trees and down wooded hillsides. From a height of 60 feet, a flying squirrel has been known to sail 152 feet through the air.

© National Wildlife Federation
Flying Squirrel

By shifting his body, the flying squirrel can control his aerial movements. He can turn from side to side, or he can swoop upward before alighting. This helps him to avoid obstacles and to pick out the spots where he wants to land. He also tries to stay away from his worst enemies, owls and cats.

While some of them lose their lives to larger foes, flying squirrels are abundant in nearly all the wooded parts of North America, from the Arctic Circle south to the forests of Mexico. In the United States there are two kinds, a small variety in the east and south and a larger one in the north and west.

The smaller flying squirrel is about 9½ inches long, including a 4½ inch tail. His larger cousin is a foot long, with a 6 inch tail. Both are gray-brown on top and white underneath.

Most flying squirrels make their homes in trees. One pair may build a nest in a woodpecker hole, another in the hollow of a limb, and a third in a hole on the side of a tree trunk. They also occupy forks in trees and take over old bird nests. If there is a house or barn near the woods, they may live in the attic or loft.

In the spot which they have chosen, the parents build a nest of leaves, grass, moss, fur and other soft materials. There, during March or April, from two to six young are born. They are very tiny and remain blind for the first four weeks.

When they are old enough, the young join their parents in the search for food—nuts, seeds, buds, fruit and some insects. They also eat birds and eggs but not enough to do any great harm.

As winter comes to the coldest parts of the United States, the flying squirrels are less lively and active but they do not hibernate. In warm regions, the National Wildlife Federation reports, they never slow down but remain busy the year around.

For interesting information on other species, write to the National Wildlife Federation, Washington 10, D. C.

My Place In the Sun

by DOUG BARRETT

My folks kindly took the girls over the weekend.....and the wife and I took off for San Diego..... after Earl Stice fixed us up with Southern Pacific seats out of Sacramento.....we made the trip by private car (Bill Porter's), SP and Greyhound.....the weather was beautiful but we were glad to get home.....Down in San Clemente we were startled to see a big neon on "Loynd's Rexall Drug".....seems some cousins of our own E. L. and Walt Loynd have a chain of drug stores in southern California .....around Atwater saw a sign for "Heller's Rexall Drug".....yep, a cousin of our own Charlie Heller of the Variety Store.....We were in Sacramento briefly Sunday and within a block ran into Shari Reynolds and Merriel Anderson, formerly of the local teen set, now in the capital city.....while at Colfax we saw Barbara White.....who told us her mother, Helen, was recuping from a recent illness..... Reg Smart, prexy of the chamber of commerce, in his shirt sleeves shoveling snow from in front of his Goodfellows' Coffee Shop..... which reminds me, the new president-designate of the Nevada City chamber is also Smart.....Mosco Smart, that is.....A real improvement is the new entrance to the post office.....installed by Frank Zuber, working for Contractor Jack Wolert.....the single entrance, indented, one-way door really is a lot nicer than the old flush swinging double doors.....and keeps the stamp emporium much cozier

HOW TO DO IT

Drip Edge Blocks Water

The eaves of a roof can be given extra protection from the weather by application of a metal drip edge, which keeps water from backing up under the shingle tabs at the edge of the roof deck. As recommended for asphalt shingles, the most widely used roofing material for homes, the metal drip edge is made of corrosion-resistant 26 gauge sheet metal. Galvanized steel, painted on both sides, ordinarily is used. The drip edge should extend back 2 to 4 inches over the roof and should be bent down over the eaves far enough to cover the edges of the roof deck sheathing. Nails, placed as shown in the drawing, are spaced 8 to 10 inches apart. Metal drip edges of this kind also should be used to protect a roof at the rakes.

TO MAKE STUDY OF DEER HERD FORAGE IN EAST OF STATE

SAN FRANCISCO— Representatives of three state and federal agencies have completed plans for a research project to determine the revegetation possibilities of overbrowsed deer ranges in northeastern California.

The three year survey is expected to get under way next spring and will be financed largely with California's share of federal tax monies on firearms and ammunition under the Pittman-Robinson Act. Cooperating agencies are the California department of fish and game, U. S. forest service and the California forest and range experiment station.

August L. Hormay of the experiment station stated that the group will consider artificial reseeding of bitterbrush and other deer browse species but that reseeding is not believed to be a cure-all for critical range depletion. It is more important, he asserted, to take care of existing browse stands, rather than reseed.

It takes about 25 years under ideal conditions to get any sort of replacement of bitterbrush stand according to the best available knowledge, Hormay said. These ideal conditions should include some degree of protection from livestock and deer grazing, he believes.

Placer County Offices Now on New Schedule

AUBURN— Court house employees of Placer County went to work a half hour earlier last Thursday, starting at 8:30 a.m. under a recently passed county ordinance. Last Saturday they got three hours off for the first time under the new law permitting Saturday closing. Previously court house offices were open from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturdays.

The ordinance places the employees on a 37½ hour week. A 38 hour week was in effect for several years.

The sheriff's office is not affected by the change.

Consolidate Suits

Carrie Whitcomb and Ruth K. Swan were permitted to consolidate their action for damages against the Pacific Greyhound Lines as the result of injuries allegedly received in a bus mishap west of Truckee May 17, 1950, when the case came before Superior Judge James Snell in Nevada City last week.

WAF'S CIVILIAN DRESS—Barracks life for the women in service is a time when civilian dresses, hats, and feminine accessories can be admired. They are permitted to add "The Woman's Touch" to their service homes. Pfc. Edna Buehl, of Staten Island, N. Y., of the WAF's, holds up a new dress for the opinion of WAF Corporal Neva Hott, of Dickens, Iowa. In their rooms curtains, flowers and nicknacks are added to give a homey look to their living spaces.

WYETHIA WINDS UP SEASON MEETINGS AT INSTALLATION

The new officers for next year were installed by the Wyethia Club last Friday, marking the final meeting until the first Friday in March.

The outgoing president, Mrs. Barney Phipps, read their duties and presented each with a corsage of fall flowers. The new president, Mrs. David Rose, then presented the club's gift, a silver platter, to Mrs. Phipps.

The business of the evening proceeded with the various special committees making annual reports. The club made the initial donation to the Tahoe Forest Hospital toward the purchase of additional equipment.

Mrs. C. B. White presented a letter written to the club by the late C. F. McGlashen, noted local historian, in 1927. The letter which had been in her possessio for some time, was appropriate framed and will occupy a prom nent place in the club room.

Appointment of the following committee chairmen concluded the business of the evening and the meeting was adjourned f everyone to enjoy refreshments.

Committee chairmen are Anne Scott, hospitality; Melba Giovannoni, house; Alice Rau, publicity; Agnes Mahne, sickness; Gladys Pedley, refreshment committee and historian; Dorothy Leamon, program; Miriam Zwarg, membership; Anona Loynd, budget and finance; Carmelita Gifford, parliamentarian; Esther Rich, music; Barbara Phipps, advisory board.

It was announced the advisory board will hold a regular meeting on November 30 with Mrs. Phipps presiding.

With Parents—

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Langille will spend Thanksgiving with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Langille at Berkeley.

To Attend Game—

Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Buell plan to attend the football game and the Sonja Henie ice skating show and will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ketman at Menlo Park this weekend.

Death in Family—

Paul Archer was reported to have been called to Los Angeles last week because of the death of his mother in that city.

Tarzan®

by EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

AFTER HUMILIATING THE UNPOPULAR WITCH DOCTOR, TARZAN, NOW CALLED BUSH SPIRIT, WAS MET WITH WILD ACCLAIM. "WAR! WAR!" SHOUTED THE FERVID WARRIORS, ANXIOUS TO BE LED AGAINST THE PANTHER MEN.

BUSH SPIRIT HAND-PICKED THE BRAVEST KEMBAS. THEN, TO THE TEMPO OF BOOMING WAR DRUMS, THE PARTY GOT UNDER WAY.

AFTER THE GROUP HAD COVERED A LONG TRAIL TOGETHER, TARZAN CHOSE TO GO ON RECONNAISSANCE. "FOLLOW THIS COURSE," HE TOLD MATO. "I WILL RETURN SHORTLY."

LATER, A CURIOUS WHITE MAN LOOKED DOWN UPON A CRUDE, DOME-SHAPED BUILDING -- AND FROM THE INSIDE CAME OMINOUS SHRIEKS AND SCREAMS.

Bob Lubbers and Dick Van Buren

SURGING DOWNWARD TO THE THATCHED ROOF, BUSH SPIRIT PEERED THROUGH AN OPENING WHERE HE SAW A TERRIFIED WHITE WOMAN PRISONER! HERE WAS THE PANTHER MEN'S TEMPLE, WHERE THEY DANCED IN LEAPING FRENZY AROUND THEIR VICTIM. AND, TENDER TO THEIR SNARLING IDOL WAS SOBU, THE WITCH DOCTOR!

JOE JINKS ®

by HENRY FORMHALS

WHOM ARE YOU GOING TO GO HUNTING WITH, JOE?

I'M GOIN' WITH TH'MAYOR! HE SAYS HE KNOWS WHERE WE OUGHTA GET SOME PHEASANTS!

AL, WE'LL NEVER GET THERE IF Y'DON'T STEP ON IT A BIT!

I CAN'T AFFORD TO EXCEED THE SPEED LIMIT! AS MAYOR, I HAVE TO BE EXTRA CAREFUL TO OBEY ALL THE LAWS!

HEY, AL! THERE'S A PHEASANT!

YES, BUT IT IS STILL TWO MINUTES TILL THE LEGAL HUNTING TIME! AS MAYOR, I COULDN'T AFFORD TO BE ARRESTED FOR SHOOTING AHEAD OF TIME!

LETS GO THROUGH THERE! IT LOOKS LIKE GOOD COVER!

I BELIEVE ITS PRIVATE PROPERTY! AS MAYOR, I COULDN'T AFFORD TO BE CAUGHT TRESPASSING! MY REPUTATION, YOU KNOW!

HEY, AL, LETS STOP THERE AN' GET SOMETHIN' T'DRINK! I'M CHILLED TO TH' BONE!

IF YOU MEAN A CUP OF COFFEE OR TEA — OKAY! BUT AS MAYOR I HAVE TO BE MIGHTY CAREFUL NOT TO DO ANYTHING THAT MIGHT HARM MY REPUTATION!
